CLARIFICATION N. 3

Expression of interest in participating in the Energy Center initiative.

Question

in relation to the public announcement of the expression of interest published on Politecnico website, I would like to ask you if a layout of the upper floors (above the ground floor) of the building is available and if such layout shows all the entrances on the floors, as well as the ways of escape clearly and in details in order to make a more detailed layout of the spaces to be allocated to offices and workstations.

Answer

All the layouts have been published on the Politecnico website and available through the specific pages referring to Expression of interest for the participation in the Energy Center initiative.

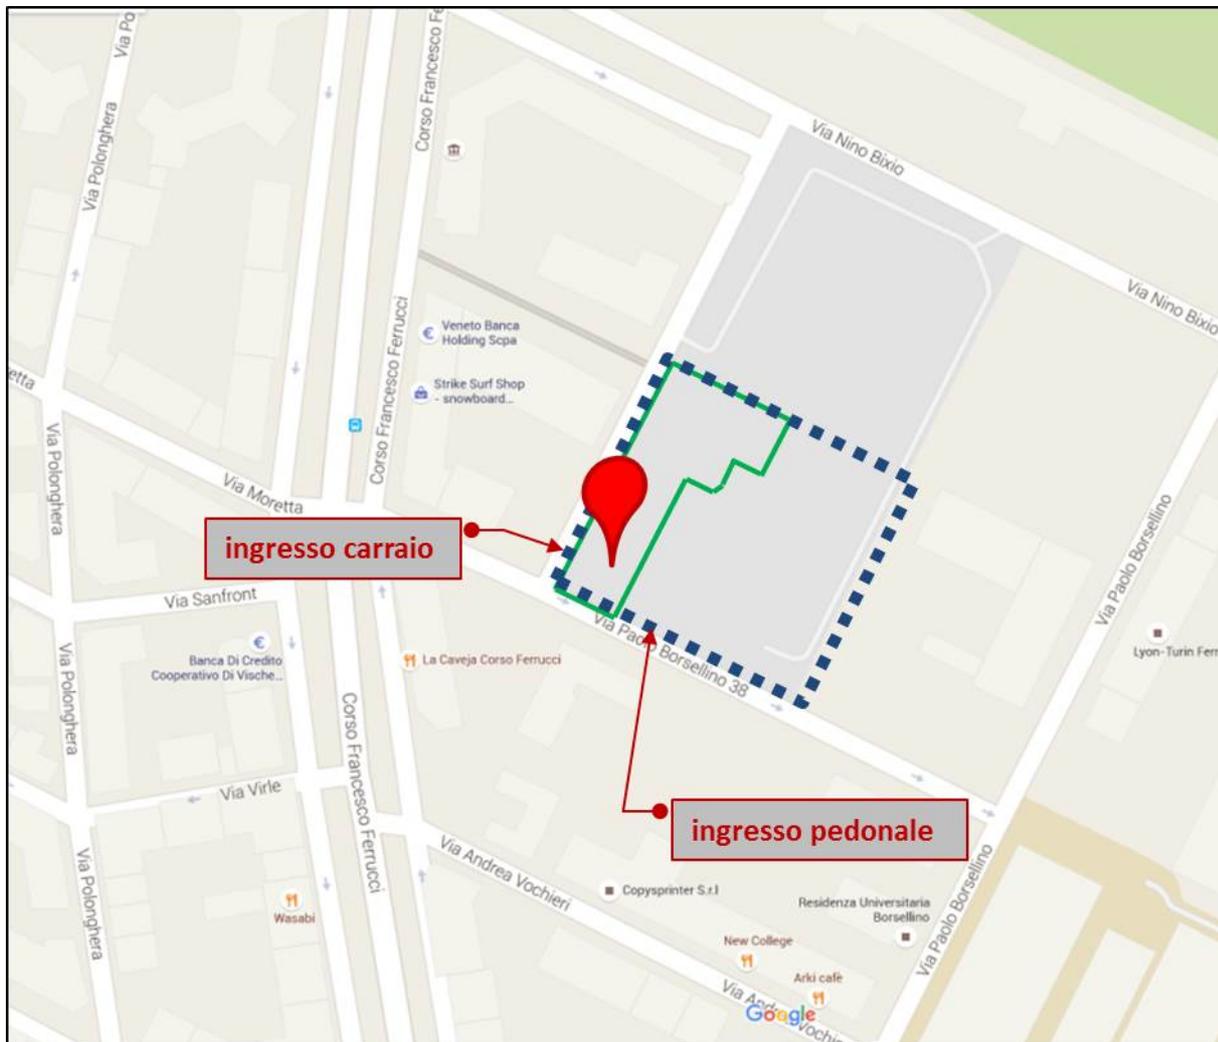

Please note that the Energy Center can be accessed through a pedestrian entrance on the street named via Paolo Borsellino, along the grass lawn area in front of the building.

All the floors will be accessed through the main stairs placed in a barycentric position within the building and through two other stairs, one located near the street named Via Borsellino and the other one located in the opposite side of the building (the spaces where all stairs are located are shown in the layout published and called “Connettivo”).

A vehicle entrance will be located in the corner between the streets Via Paolo Borsellino and via Nino Bixio.

Please note that, in this preliminary phase of the Expression of interest, no detailed layout is required but a technical report, as mentioned on page 1, point d), where “...the applicant should outline space requirements by indicating the size of the rooms and the installations required to carry out the activity (...).”
